MEMBER OF THE MONTH TAMARA SMITH

I joined Re.Creation 6 months ago after getting back in touch with my previous personal trainer Jane. After slowly putting on weight over the past few years and constantly feeling tired all the time, I knew it was time to get back into the gym and prioritise my health. Since joining, I have been training with Jane 1-3 times a week, doing my own weights, cardio and the occasional class. These training sessions, along with daily walks, Jane's consistent challenges and motivation, and a much needed change of diet have helped me loose 18kg. I now have a lot more energy, am a much happier person and most importantly I am fitter and healthier. I still have a while to go to reach my goals, but this winning combo of diet and exercise will get me there.

I've been a member of numerous gyms over the years, but nothing compares to Re.Creation. It's a fun, friendly and encouraging environment where you can feel at home. Re.Creation has the culture of a boutique gym where everyone says hi but has all the facilities, equipment and classes you could possibly need.

Fun facts why it's good to exercise during winter

You'll feel happier and more energized.

As the body works harder to stay warm, the amount of endorphins produced also increases, leaving you with a stronger sense of happiness and lightness following a workout in the cold.

You'll remember the importance of warm-up and cool-down routines.

Winter workouts will encourage you to become a pro when it comes to full warm-up and cool-down routines, the former to keep your internal body temperature elevated, and the latter to reduce unnecessary tightness inspired by the chill in the air.

You'll drink more water

The body continues to sweat, but that sweat evaporates more quickly into the chilly, dry air, making it seem as though the body is losing less water.

You'll strengthen your heart.

Cold weather also makes the heart work harder to distribute blood throughout the body

Every morning you have two choices: continue to sleep with your dreams, or wake up & chase them!
